

ROMI

selects

VILLALOBOS SILVESTRE

Villalobos is family run estate in Chile's Pacific facing Colchagua Valley originally founded in Enrique Villalobos' sculpture studio. The family approaches the practices of winemaking and sculpture as parallel and complementary as different methodologies of employing gifts from the natural world to generate a new form. The Villalobos family focuses on Carignan, a grape whose presence had almost vanished completely from Chile. By forgoing the use of chemicals in the vineyard and in the winery, they let the 70-80 year old vines let the Colchagua Valley truly express itself in their wines.

VINTAGE: 2017

REGION: Colchagua Valley, Chile

APPELLATION: Lolol

GRAPES: Carignan

YEASTS: Native

FERMENTATION: Destemmed, spontaneous in stainless steel

AGED: 18 months in neutral French oak

CLARIFICATION/FILTRATION: Unfiltered/
Unfined

FARMING: Organic

ALCOHOL CONTENT: 12%

ADDED SO2: Negligible

SOIL: Clay, quartz

VINE AGE: 80 years

VOLUME: 750mL

